

POSITIONING STATEMENT

Little Brave Heart Tells His Story was written to encourage the young person who might be personally facing a physical or emotional challenge. The author draws from her own experience of her lifetime involvement with animals and her compassion for children that face a challenge in their life and recognizes the therapeutic value of interacting with animals. To validate her drive to promote this story, it turns out that people of all ages love this book because of the positive message of hope, compassion and the power of love and inner-strength it brings to the reader.